A continuity equation is useful when a flux can be defined. To define flux, first there must be a quantity  $q$  which can flow or move, such as mass, energy, electric charge, momentum, number of molecules, etc. Let  $\rho$  be the volume density of this quantity, that is, the amount of  $q$  per unit volume.. The way that this quantity  $q$  is flowing is described by its flux.
